	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
The following extra week will be added at the end of December, every 5, or 6 (or, extremely rarely, 7) years:	1	2	3	4	5	6	7

Note: the "Extra-Week Years" are every year in which the old Gregorian calendar begins, or ends, on a Thursday:
 2015, 2020, 2026, 2032, 2037, 2043, 2048, 2054, 2060, 2065, 2071, 2076, 2082, 2088,
 2093, 2099, 2105, 2111, 2116, 2122, 2128, 2133, 2139, 2144, 2150, 2156, 2161, 2167 ...
 If you prefer to celebrate your birthday on your traditional, Gregorian, date — you of course may! Here's how:
 ...each year, simply find your true birthday, right here: <http://henry.pha.jhu.edu/calendarDir/ccctDir/ccct.html>
